

LOGISTICS SERVICES

KEEPING YOUR PRODUCTS MOVING THROUGHOUT NORTH AMERICA

Getting your products or materials from Point A to Point B is usually only part of the transportation strategy. Additional storage, handling and warehousing are often part of the overall equation.

At IDI, we offer you supply chain solutions that make the best use of your transportation and distribution budget. It begins with our warehouse facility in Portland, Oregon, that allows us to customize a logistics solution for you anywhere in North America. We've developed transportation programs as custom as delivering conveyor systems to the side of a remote mountain, creating unique warehousing logistics solutions to meet demanding requirements, and coordinating and consolidating shipments to boost customer profitability.

Then we give you a single point of contact who takes the time to evaluate your needs and create a custom logistics plan. Your contact leads a multidisciplinary team at IDI which analyzes every aspect of your project and distribution logistics. Because we have a team of creative problem-solvers not constrained by a one-size-fits-all approach to shipping, we're able to develop solutions to maximize your efficiency and increase your ability to service your customers, regardless of your needs.

Our logistics services include:

- Warehouse logistics
- Freight logistics
- Project transportation
- Freight consolidation
- Transportation mode determination

LOGISTICS TEAM

Natural problem solvers might be one way to describe the team we've put together to help you with your logistics. Creating a schedule to seamlessly move products and materials from arrival to storage to distribution is no easy task. But when you work with IDI, this team of professionals sure makes it feel that way.
